WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 18, 1863

Just Rebuke to Northern Pro-Slavery Men

Henry Winter Davis just elected to Congress as the emancipation candidate from Baltimore, recently made a speech in New York, which ought to be read by every Northern man who has the slightest sympathy with slavery. We can only quote a few sentences, but these are sufficient to indicate his sentiments. We hardly think judging from these remarks, that Mr Davis is much afraid of voting for abolitionists, and we presume that he would say that any one who preferred to support Vallandigham rather than an abolitionist who was on the side of the Government, was either a "traitor at heart, or so low as to be utter unworthy of notice" These are his closing remarks

When the President issued the emancipation proclamation, justifiable by the condition of foreign affairs, it was said we should have negro insurrection and massacres of their masters' families But where has been these scenes? The prophecy sprang from the wish of the prophet They wanted to curse Israel and they did, but the prophecy coming from below proved false [Cheers] There was a great cry about the radical Abolitionists, and this small fragment had been used to blacken and smut the whole North, and this deception had done much to cause the war. Now, when we are at a crisis of our fate, those who would be willing to destroy the Government for the sake of their friends at the South begin again to raise this cry to delude the people Ill-omened owls, who cannot get the old ideas, like cobwebs, out of their heads, begin to talk about the negro, to attempt to revive the old prejudice, which the enemies of the Republic alone use for mischief, and which no man can ever raise for good. ["Bravo, bravo"]

I say, gentlemen of the United States, that as little as I have been an Abolitionist heretofore, and as little regard as I have for their common sense in great National affairs, and as little as I think they were ever calculated to do good—yet I say that the man who utters a word for the purpose of awakening a prejudice against any man who is on the side of the Government in this struggle is a traitor at heart, or else so low as to be utterly unworthy of notice. [Loud cheers] All the old arguments of Roger B Taney and those who would preserve slavery are brought forward at this day by men in high position Why not be reasonable, if negroes are not men, we can't make them so, and if they are men, we can't help it, and if they are not our equals, we can't help it These questions generally settle themselves by the laws of nature and of God. [Cheers] Those men who seek to revive these old prejudices are only seeking mischief. Let this question alone, and let the future show it, the Lord knows we have got enough in this day to attend to our own business. [Applause and laughter]

Letters of Acknowledgment—The following letters have been received from Florence, with a request that we give them place in our columns. They eloquently explain themselves:

U. S. Sanitary Commission,
New York, Sept 5, 1863

Gentlemen—Your munificent gift to the sick and wounded soldiers, of $1450, has just reached us. Already the glorious news of our great successes at Vicksburg, Port Hudson and Gettysburg has repaid you for your humanity Could you have witnessed the unspeakable relief afforded the twenty thousand wounded men at Gettysburg, by the means which the liberality of loyal hearts like yours has put into our hands, you could rejoice with tears of gratitude over so blessed an opportunity Your gold dust will keep many a brave sufferer from a too early grave, and restore to the arms of his home many a wasting invalid that without this solace would never again brighten the eyes of his wife, his mother, his children

It is most encouraging to behold the substantial patriotism of such young Territories as yours! They cannot fail, with such early beginnings in love of country, to become devoted daughters of the nation when, in a short time, they take their place among the States of an undivided and imperishable Union.

Return the heartfelt thanks of our Commission, who speak for the sick and wounded soldiers, to your noble Florentines, for their glorious donation Tell them, we shall do our whole duty by the country and by the heroes who shed their blood for its preservation, and that Idaho Territory, and the town of Florence, are already inscribed on the roll of patriotism, to be handed down to an admiring posterity

Respectfully and gratefully yours,
HENRY W BELLOWS,
President U. S Sanitary Commission

To Messrs. Samuel Welles, Geo. L Story, J H. Atwood, John B James, Committee.

U. S Sanitary Commission,
New York Sept 21, 1863

Gentlemen.—I herewith enclose to you the letter of thanks from Dr Bellows, our Treasurer's formal receipt, and the assay office memorandum. By this, you will see that what you value in at $1350 in Idaho Territory, is here worth $1466 16 in gold

This gold we sold to day for $2010 46, which added to the $100 Treasury note, makes $2110 46 for your donation to the funds of this Commission The delay in acknowledgment has arisen from delay at the assay office We received the gold from there to-day

Very respectfully, your old t servant,

Letter from Eugene City

Eugene City, Nov 14, 1863

Editor Oregonian

Our town, which has been remarkably dull in a business point of view for two or more years past, begins to show unmistakable signs of increasing activity and thrift in all branches of business. Several things tend to produce this result. Captain Pease's new steamer which is just about to take its place on the river and is partially owned at this place, is expected to make regular trips here which if done will rapidly develope and build up a trade This county ought to be second to none in the State when fully populated, improved and connected with a market The route to the Northern mines from this place by way of the McKenzie, is becoming quite an established fact, and as it makes this in many instances quite an outfitting point, trade naturally increases Again we have really got mines near by us Several men are actually at work, and it is thought with encouraging prospects, some sixty or seventy miles east from here, though the approaching winter and deep snows will probably interrupt operations for awhile. Altogether Eugene City is looking up somewhat again.

Court has just adjourned, after a session of nearly two weeks, though I cannot learn that anything of special public interest transpired I heard some of the lawyers complaining that it was a lean docket, The greenback money of the country seems to diminish legal business and in that respect it may be deemed a blessing. The Grand Jury found but two true bills, and they were both for offenses committed on the first day of the term—one a stabbing affray at the saloon, the other an aggravated case of poisoning four or five valuable hunting dogs.

By the way I observed recently in your paper a very just complaint at the concurrence of so many terms of Court in the same week Vancouver, Portland and Lafayette and you might have added for the same week Benton county, and I think one of the counties east of the mountains, and at our term here I heard the bar complaining that there was a term the same week in Linn, an adjoining county

The crops have been abundant this season, and generally well secured, though there was a scarcity of help Health has been generally good until quite lately the scarlet fever has made its appearance and in some cases with great severity, although with not much fatality as yet.

About Railroads, we are I think 'willin,' but of course not able to do much What has Portland decided to do in that behalf?

Oregon City seems to be moving for herself in the right direction, although it seems from a late number of your paper that one of her prominent citizens is finding the rest of the town uncommonly obstinate In fact, although his flour, judging from your advertising columns, is remarkably self rising, his reputation cannot be considered equally fortunate I believe Harvey was the discoverer of the the theory of the circulation of the blood, would not he blush to see his modern namesake interfering with the circulation of water.

Jacksonville, Nov. 7, 1863

Good Advice from a Rebel—Col Poindexter being under salutary restraint in the St Louis County Jail, with sufficient leisure to cool off and reflect, has taken to writing letters to the Missouri guerrillas, advising them to quit the business of bushwhacking, robbing and pillaging, lest they bring after ruin upon the State of Missouri. He thinks it won't pay, and urges those who can't submit quietly to Federal rule, to pull up stakes, go South and join the rebel army The fate of Missouri is fixed, and to think of changing its relations to the Government, or of successfully invading it while the Mississippi is held by Federal authority, is, he thinks, puerile It is a piece of very sound advice if it does come from a rebel, and the butternut bushwhackers of Missouri will act wisely if they are guided by it They may be certain that so long as they keep up this murderous warfare, they or their sympathizing friends will answer for it, ten to one

The Genuine Democracy—Daniel S Dickinson recently wrote a letter which was read at a Union Convention in New York, the pithy closing sentence of which well deserved the attention of Democrats, who desire to be loyal

"Yet they tell us it is the Democratic ticket, and the Democratic party! Perhaps it is! 'Weal pie,' said Mr Weller, sr, 'is wery good, if you know the woman as made it, and is sure it aint kittens' Democracy too, is a most excellent sentiment, and inculcates many sublime truths, but it is well enough to take heed at whose hands you receive it, and be reasonably certain that there are no claws beneath its tempting covering of pastry"

Pacific Rail Road Meeting—We are requested to state that Mr M Turley, in compliance with the invitation of many of our citizens, will deliver an address this (Wednesday) evening, at the Court House, upon the subject of the Pacific Rail Road. It is to be hoped that a full audience will be present, as the question is one of absorbing interest to all our citizens, and is one also with which Mr. Turley is thoroughly familiar, having frequently addressed the people in different States upon this subject.

Circuit Court—The cases assigned for yesterday were tried by the jury. Jacob Williams was convicted of an assault with intent to kill and Jacob Cline was acquitted of the charge of fornication, for which he was indicted.

Sundry "celestial" females—whose names are a mystery—indicted for keeping houses of ill fame in this virtuous city, will be tried today. We will publish to morrow the report of Grand Jury, with a list of indictments found by them.

U. S District Court at Vancouver.—We understand that the U. S. Grand Jury has been discharged from its labors in the Court now held at Vancouver.

New Assessor—Mr William Grooms has received the appointment of Assistant Assessor of Internal Revenue for District No. 3, which embraces Multnomah county, vice H. D. Coulson, resigned

No Connection Above—The steamer from Cascades yesterday failed to connect with the boat above, hence but little gold was added to the amount now on hands in this city.

Sailed—The steamer from San Francisco for Victoria was advertised to sail yesterday, and may be expected here on Monday next.

Theatrical—To night the favorite piece, "Robbers of the Forest of Bohemia," will be presented at the Willamette Theatre, and it can scarcely fail to attract a good house.

Wire Broken.—We are informed by Mr. Whitehouse of the Pioneer Hotel, that the telegraphic communication between Oregon City and Salem is interrupted by a break in the wire.

Always Prompt.—Our table is well furnished with all recent pictorials, &c., for which we are indebted to S. J. McCormick, who has [illegible] ough, just arrived overland, to enable every body who loves good reading, to get a fair share.

Newspapers, etc.—Charles Barrett has our thanks for late papers, received by mail yesterday morning. He has a full supply.

Sewing Machines.—Everybody wants sewing machines. The forlorn old bachelor needs one to sew buttons of his — wristbands, and the family man needs one to make the aforesaid wristbands for buttons to be sewed on to. We spent a few moments among the latter class yesterday noon, at the wareroom of F. C. Pomeroy, Agent for the Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines, and witnessed the operation of the "lock-stitch" The reader must not expect us to describe what they can call at Mr. Pomeroy's, on Alder street, second door above First, and see for themselves. His exhibition room is decorated with some elegant garments of ladies' wear, neatly braided, and the rich and varied casings of his family sewing machines arranged in a semi-circle, present a fine contrast. Among the many highly finished, is undoubtedly the most magnificent whole in that line ever seen north of San Francisco. The case is of solid rose wood, satin wood lined, with the machine and all necessary implements silver plated, while the bed plate is inlaid with pearl. The top is in two parts, hinged, so that the whole machine may be exposed, or only so much as shall free the needle, while an expansive rest is thus obtained. It is worth $200 Look at it.

Louis Napoleon—A Paris correspondent applies to the French Emperor the following description, originally designed for another, but it certainly fits the "nephew of his uncle" as well as if it was made for him

"He never did what he aimed at—never aimed at what he intended—never intended what he said—never said what he thought, whereby he carried it so that others should do his business when they opposed it, and he should undermine theirs when he seemed to promote it. A man that was to be traced like the fox, and read like the Hebrew, backward, if you would know what he did, you must observe what he did not"

Steamers Arrived—The St Louis and the Moses Taylor both arrived at San Francisco on the 8th inst., bringing an immense number of passengers. P. D. Moore, Esq, the new Collector of Internal Revenue for Washington Territory came on the Moses Taylor, having in his charge $1,000,000 in legal tender notes, for disbursement on this coast, and $50,000 worth of revenue stamps.

The Archduke Maximilian of Austria is likely to have a sorry time of it if he accepts the crown of Mexico. We doubt if he will fill that throne as long as he will that splendid outfit said to be ordered for him of the celebrated California Clothiers, Heuston, Hastings & Co., of Montgomery street, San Francisco. Their trade is on the increase and is already enormous.

Our Flag

BY A [illegible]

Though the banner of England [illegible] years old
Beneath the bright sky of free[illegible]
Though the ensign of Gaul which [illegible]
O'er [illegible]
Though the Eagles of Austria the fall [illegible]
Over millions untold proudly wave in the [illegible]
Yet in the Great West in the land of the [illegible]
Is the emblem I love—the banner for me
'Tis the flag which of old [illegible] furled
When against it the wrath of a tyrant was hurled
'Tis the flag of our fathers the flag of the free
The emblem of glory—the banner for me
Now that treason assails [illegible]
Say, shall our loved flag be trailed in the dust?
We'll rush to our [illegible] again as [illegible]
Though the fields of the South shall be red with our gore
And swear that [illegible]
Of its lustre or a stripe of its brilliance [illegible] star
With song and with shout to the breeze fling it out
In the face of the foe as old [illegible]
While the prayers of the nation go up for the brave
Who rally around it their country to save

BAD NEIGHBORS — In a little village in Connecticut several years ago there lived one David Barnes, a person of excitable temper and violent passions, especially, as was often the case, when under the influence of strong drink Not far from him resided old Squire Nelson, famous in all the region round about for his ready wit, with which few were able to cope successfully

The squire had at the time of which I write, a pig of remarkable promise, which one day effected a stolen exit from his domicil and wandered about seeking what it might devour, till finally it happened into Barnes garden, where, following the impulses of its nature, it (as Barnes himself graphically expressed it) "rooted around like one possest.

The animal was at length espied by Barnes, who—it being the hour when his bitters most were felt, issued forth with murderous intent and a stick and so gave vent to his emotions that the poor beast "withdrew" as speedily as possible, and reached home more dead than alive

When recovered from the effects of his potations Barnes regretted his hastiness, and resolved to visit the squire explain and make it right, if possible Off he started, and found the squire at home He hardly knew how to open the subject, and so he began with

"Wal, Squire, I'm a thinkin' of leavin these parts '

Squire—"You don't say so ? I'm sorry for that."

Barnes (with great surprise)—'Be ye? An' why, may I ask ?"

Squire—"Wal, I'll tell you, Years ago there come a Mr Robinson to live where you do, and he was a mean sort of a man, and it was hard gittin' along with him And after him come Tom Mullen, and he was a dreadful mean man—worse, if anything, than the other And after he left there came Bill Moshor, who was really tejus', and then one worse'n all the others together—old Ned Boleso You see, they kept a growin' worse — And, finally, you come, and I'm afraid that if you go, the evil one himself will be next!'

Barnes left

"THE GIFT OF THE GAB"—Sir Robert Peel on more than one occasion invited Mr Stephenson to Drayton He refused at first, from an indisposition to 'mix in fine company,' but ultimately went On one occasion an animated discussion took place between him self and Dr. Buckland, on one of his favorite theories as to the formation of coal But the result was that Dr Buckland a much greater master of tongue fence than Stephenson completely silenced him

Next morning, before breakfast, when he was walking in the grounds, deeply pondering, Sir William Follett came up, and asked what he was thinking about

"Why, Sir William," said Mr. Stephenson, "I am thinking over that argument I had with Buckland last night I know I am right and that if I had only the command of words which he has, I'd have beaten him."

"Let me know all about it," said Sir William, "and I'll see what I can do for you"

The two sat down in an arbor, where the astute lawyer made himself thoroughly acquainted with the points of the case, entering into it with all the zeal of an advocate about to plead the dearest interests of his client After he had mastered the subject, Sir William rose up, rubbing his hands with glee, and said, "Now I am ready for him"

Sir Robert Peel was made acquainted with the plot, and adroitly introduced the subject of the controversy after dinner The result was, that in the argument which followed, the man of science was overcome by the man of law, and Sir William Follett had at all points the mastery over Dr Buckland

"What do you say, Mr Stephenson ?" asked Sir Robert, laughing

"Why," said he, "I will only say this, that of all powers above and under the earth, there seems to be no power so great as the gift of the gab"—Men Who Have Risen

AN UGLY HOOSIER —A Hoosier, an awful ugly man relating his travels in Missouri said he arrived in Chickenville in the forenoon, and just a few days after there had been a steamboat explosion and a number of persons were scalded and killed, one way and another

At last he went into a grocery store, and a squad of people followed him in, and one bowed and remarked

"This is one of the unfortunate individuals who suffered by the bustin' of the Franklin"

Upon that he axed me to drink with him, and as I put the tumbler to my mouth, he stopped me of a sudden, saying

'I beg your pardon, stranger, but '

'But what?' sez I

"Jist fix your mouth that way agin," sez he

I done it just as if I was gwine to drink, and I'll be hanged if I didn't think they'd all go in fits They yelled and hooped like a gang of wolves Finally, one of the gang said to his companions

"Don't make fun of the poor unfortunate, he's hardly got over bein' blowed up yet — Let's make up a purse"

They all throwed in and made up five dollars As the spokesmen handed me the change, he axed me

"Where did you find yourself after the explosion?'

"In a flatboat," sez I

"How far from Franklin?" sez he

"Why,' sez I, 'as near as I can guess about three hundred and seventy five miles'

You d oughter seen that gang scatter It was the only time my ugliness stood me a good turn

AMERICAN NAVAL ACHIEVEMENTS —The following from the London Times of January, 1812, will be read with interest at the present time

We witnessed the gloom which that event (the capture of the Guerriere) cast over high and honorable minds it is not merely that an English frigate has been taken after a brave resistance, but it has been by a new enemy The mourning for this last most affecting event (the capture of the Java) can never be laid aside till the honor of the British flag shall be redeemed by establishing the same triumphant superiority over the Americans that we have had over all the nations that traverse the seas Five hundred British vessels and three frigates have been captured in seven months by the Americans Can the English people hear this unmoved Down to this moment not an American frigate has struck her flag They insult and laugh at us they leave their ports when they please and return when it suits their convenience they traverse the Atlantic they beset the West India Islands they advance to the very chops of the Channel they parade along the coast of South America nothing chases them nothing intercepts nothing engages them but yields to them a triumph

EUGENIE AND STRIPED STOCKINGS —The Paris correspondent of the Liverpool Courier says that the Empress possesses the immortal honor of having invented, or at least revived crinoline petticoats Such a brilliant act would have fully satisfied the ambition of an ordinary woman But her Majesty has a lofty soul, and aspires to the glory of making another revolution in female costume For thirty or forty years past and for aught I know more French ladies have been faithful to the white stocking and they have firmly set their faces against the attempt of the English ladies to introduce the red one The Empress thinking that the eternal white had become rather monotonous—the red was too glaring and blue too literary—asked herself if some other color could not be adopted She thought long and anxiously and at last the inspiration came—the stocking might be striped! The day after this mental illumination the imperial ankles and some little space above them, came forth adorned with stockings of blue and white stripes, and all the courtiers proclaimed the union of the two colors ravishing to behold By this time next year, no doubt, the new fashion will be as prevalent as that of crinolines

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs under the modest appellation of Bitters which instead of curing only aggravate disease and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair

Hoofland's German Bitters

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language "has been saved by the Bitters"

PHILADELPHIA, August [illegible]

Messrs Jones & Evans —Well gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life There is no mistake in this It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case I am, and have been for the last four years a member of Sherman's celebrated battery and under the immediate command of Captain R B Ayres Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital This was followed by great debility heightened by an attack of dysentery I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach Life could not last under these circumstances and accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully though unsuccessfully to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer frankly told me they could do no more for me and advised me to see a clergyman and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded and I am now thank God for it getting better Though I have taken but two bottles I have gained ten pounds and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life

Very truly yours ISAAC MALONE

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life
